ent party, chief supporters of Prince Carol, in order to secure their support for the Regency Council, thus guaranteeing the exclusion of Prince Carol from any share in the government.

Prince Michael, young son of former Crown Prince Carol, will be proclaimed King of Rumania, to succeed his grandfather at four o'clock this afternoon, it was announced.

Prince Michael, accompanied by Queen Marie, his grandmother, and his mother, Princess Helen, wife of the former Crown Prince Carol, and Prince Nicholas, arrived in Bucharest from Simla this afternoon.

Members of the government will greet the prince at the Kotoren station, where a royal procession will form. The "baby king" will drive in state to Parliament, where he will be proclaimed king and a regency council will be confirmed.

Officers and troops will be marshaled before the "baby king" and take the oath of allegiance to him.

The scene in the death chamber was a pathetic one. Last night the dying king went continuously falling intermittently into unconsciousness. His weakness was so great that he could scarcely speak.

For weeks the king has been wasting away and was little more than a skeleton when he died.

PARLIAMENT NOTIFIED.

Parliament was convened today to administer the oath of regency to the council of regents when the news of the king's death was transmitted officially.

Messages are understood to have been taken to prevent the entry of Prince Carol into Rumania.

Thus far there have been no public demonstrations, although crowds

You Smoke? Baby King Asks Tiny Princess

Bucharest, Rumania, July 20 (A.P.)—Court gossip, of course, repeats the port remarks of "Baby King" Michael, but he is not a loquacious boy and so the questions are few. One remark which amused the court was made to a little princess who was Michael's playmate when he went to Italy last year to enjoy the air of the sea and see his father.

When the children were presented to each other there was a long silence. Finally Michael said without a smile:

"Do you smoke?"

Michael will, if he lives, ascend the throne and begin his rule in fact as well as in name on his eighteenth birthday—12 years from October 23, next.

Prince Michael was born on that date in 1911 and is not yet six years of age.

CAROL HOPES TO BE AT FUNERAL

Paris, July 20 (A.P.)—Prince Carol, who renounced his rights to the throne of Rumania for the love of a woman, hopes to be permitted to return to Bucharest to attend the funeral of his father, King Ferdinand.

The prince so informed the International News Service today, when at 11:45 a. m., seven hours after the death of the king, he received from the International News the first information of his father's death.

"Will you go back?" queried the correspondent.

"I will wait word from my family," said the prince, "and I will certainly go to the funeral unless they tell me not to. I think I will be allowed to enter the country."

U. S. AWAITING BRITISH MOVE

Geneva, Switzerland, July 20 (A.P.)—That some weighty decision is about to be taken by the British cabinet in connection with the Italian naval conference in the general opinion prevailing today in conference circles at Geneva.

The negotiations at Geneva have been conducted for the last few days in what was said to be the pleasantest possible spirit, all three delegations expressing encouragement, but without any agreement being reached on a question which both the United States and Great Britain consider vital.

The problem is whether the United States will commit herself to mount on guns larger than six inches on her secondary cruisers.

The impression in Geneva is that the American delegates will resist any attempt to subject the United States to any type of cruiser which the American delegation believes is unrelated to her naval needs and will also resist any effort to confine armament to guns less than six inches on her secondary cruisers.

As a result of the Washington agreement, may be mounted on swift merchant liners.

TEARS MET MANTLAND'S EYES AT HOME RECEPTION

Milwaukee, Wis., July 20 (A.P.)—The eyes that peered into the darkness of that night when an airplane crashed at Hawaii were dimmed with tears at the civic dinner given by Milwaukee to its native son, Lieutenant Lester J. Mantland, and his companion, Lieutenant Albert H. Hoenberger.

Overcome with emotion as honor upon honor was bestowed upon him, Lieutenant Mantland smiled, wept and shook his head unable to speak of that night that evoked his continued the cheering.

Among the honors showered on him was a colonelcy in the Wisconsin National Guard.

CIRCUS MAN IS STABBED

Binghamton, N. Y., July 19 (A.P.)—George R. McLean, 26, of Danville, Ill., was held by the police today on an open charge awaiting the result of injuries received by William P. Murphy, 40, of Bedford, Mass., who is believed to be dying from stab wounds.

Both men were employed by Miller's 101 Ranch Show exhibiting here and quarreled over a male lion.

Witnesses say McLean chased Murphy with a knife, overtaking and stabbing him. McLean claims Murphy fell, tripping him, causing him to fall, plunging the knife into Murphy.

One year ago while visiting this city an employee of the show was accidentally shot and killed in the Indian raid.

John Phillips of No. 115 Tremont street, Roxbury, is dying in City Hospital today, while the police are trying to locate the driver of an automobile, part of a funeral procession, which knocked down the Roxbury man on South street, Jamaica Plain. Phillips suffered a fractured skull.

The car which struck Phillips, according to witnesses, was in the line of a funeral procession going toward Forest Hills. The car struck Phillips, but the operator did not stop. Policemen who were sent to the scene after having Phillips taken to the hospital, went to the cemetery in an effort to locate the driver, but were unsuccessful. Several witnesses to the accident put part of the number of the registration as it stood away, and the police will conduct an investigation at the registrar's office in an effort to locate the driver.

PARENTS LIKELY TO MISS HER WEDDING

New Bedford, July 26.—Two wedding gifts of twenty-three-year-old Evelyn F. Scott, nurse, to her sixty-nine-year-old clergyman fiancé, James D. Butts, who resides at shore, cutting in a local factory, were revealed today.

One is a brand new shiny sedan that was driven over the foot road from Boston, and the other is a double lot on the outskirts of New Bedford, which Mrs. Scott said today that she intends to use as the site for their home, the construction to begin after the wedding on Friday.

The nurse and bride-to-be will build this home beside the home of her chum, who also is daughter of a preacher who owned and ran the Orleans girl from a sick bed while she nursed him.

Parental objections overcome, a minister willing to perform the marriage ceremony, nothing now stands in the way of the marriage.

The wedding, to be performed by the Rev. Charles S. Thayer of the Seaman's Chapel here, will be celebrated on the bridegroom's 69th birthday, and his daughter, the girl of the maid of Orleans, will probably be the only member of either family to attend the wedding.

City Clerk Rudolph A. Swan, in declaring that he will issue the marriage license Friday "unless one of the parties is proved to be an idiot," revealed that the couple sought a previous marriage license in New Bedford on June 14. Their request was denied because the nurse whose address was given as South Orleans, had no Orleans license as required by law.

"The wedding is going to be simply a family ceremony. I have told no one that my father and mother will not be here," she said.

"Are they going to attend the ceremony?" she was asked.

"It is going to be strictly a family wedding," was Mrs. Scott's answer.

"I don't care what they say. I am the happiest woman in the world or would be if it were not for the unhappiness that are being circulated. I am sure I can stand them and laugh."

POLLARD WILL SEE CHILDREN 'NEVER WANT'

Lowell, July 26.—Bored himself with grief a woman and her son attempted today to save a bit of the pain of two equally ardent women—mother and wife of Police Officer Donald F. Adams, slain by Assad G. Saab in a threatened trial.

The man was A. G. Pollard, wealthy Lowell department store owner, and he eluded the stricken mother and the young widow, Mrs. Adams, of two hours today and offered to take care of them for life against need and want.

Pollard said he felt deeply his part in the tragedy. It was the wealthy store owner who suggested Police Officer Adams to be summoned in pursuit of Saab, after Saab is accused to have threatened the agent who is an attempt to extort money.

WILL RAISE A FUND

Never will the mother, the young widow or the two children, Mildred, 1, and Dorothy, 13 months, wish for anything, Pollard told their mother. From another source also came comfort to the stricken relatives, insofar as it can be rendered material.

A civic fund was started by citizens of Chelmsford as an aid to the widow and mother.

Charged with murder, Saab was arraigned in District Court before Judge Frederick A. Fisher, and was held without bail for the Grand Jury.

The head of the man who slew Police Officer Adams after Adams, on a motorcycle, had chased the car on which Saab was a passenger in flight, was bound in handcuffs, taken to the police station.

CLAIM SAAB IS INSANE

These landmarks marked the earlier official when Saab was held with an arm which still showed by a bullet which struck the chest. The man, Edward J. Tierney, the shooter was declared in court to be "maniacally insane." Tierney's alleged insanity of the mind, and it is believed Saab will be examined by a physician.

Mitchell Field, N. Y., July 26 (A.P.)—Before hopping off on his country-wide tour in the interest of aeronautics, Charles A. Lindbergh paused in his preparations to tell a sick boy in Boston that he was sorry that he could not fly over the hospital in which he is a patient, as the youth had requested in a letter sent in care of the Mayor of New York.

The airman sent the boy a picture of "We," his plane and himself. The letter went by airmail today to "Friend Ned" in care of the Mayor of Boston. The boy is Ned Rice.

Lindbergh wrote: "Dear Ned: I saw your letter today just before leaving on my tour of the country. I can't fly over the hospital in Boston where you are because it would be dangerous and against the law, but in order to Frank Piper, 44, was sentenced to a month in the House of Correction on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor and fined $10 on a charge of drunkenness in North District Court today. He appealed and was named bail for $100.

Piper was rounded up by Judge Bacon when the former's attorney requested the bail sentence on the ground of being a first offense. Any motorist who drives in his condition in traffic as he did ought to be sent to jail, the judge declared.

Piper was arrested in front of the Volstead Club by Sergeant William Mahoney on the night of July 4 when his car had run into three parked autos on Washington street.

On the stand, Piper admitted he had one drink with his driver at the club. Dr. Thomas A. McCarthy of West Newton, a witness for Piper, said he was with the driver at the club all day and he had not been drinking.

COURTNEY PUTS HOP OFF UNTIL TOMORROW

Calicut, England, July 20 (A.P.)—Captain F. T. Courtney is not discouraged by the failure of his radio apparatus which today compelled him to postpone until tomorrow morning his departure for Valencia, Ireland, his base for a transatlantic flight to New York.

He not only is preparing to fly to New York, but also plans to fly back again.

"The trouble is not very serious," he announced after inspecting the radio set which had failed to function properly. He expressed satisfaction with the performance of his plane, the "Whale," during the hour's flight he made this morning before the failure of his radio caused him to decide to turn back.

Experts began adjusting the radio set soon after the plane returned, fitting a new and stronger propeller on the electric generating plant. As a precautionary measure, Courtney planned to make another test flight and trying out the radio before departing.

The aviator received a weather bulletin forecasting conditions which he considered favorable for the flight.

Latest information on Captain Courtney's plans for the radio flight is that he will come back over the route of his westward flight. He intends, after reaching New York, to overhaul his engine and rest not more than two days, depending on the condition of the plane.

Then he will refuel and fly back to Calicut, landing on route in Newfoundland and at Valencia.

HERRICK MAY UNDERGO SECOND OPERATION

Lindy Won't Land in Hub Unless Runway Is Kept Clear

"The runways of the Boston Airport must be kept clear of people Friday, or it will not land," this terse bit of information and characteristic of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, the lone transatlantic trail blazer, to those in charge of the port. As a result 200 members of the State Police Patrol, one battalion of the 26th Infantry and scores of police officers are being mobilized to keep the field clear for Lindy.

A nine-year-old boy told police he saw two men in an automobile throw Lindy into the road and continue on their way a short distance, and then return to where Lindy lay and go through his pockets. A bottle which appeared to contain whiskey was taken from Lindy's clothing, the boy said.

Patrolman Kelly was one of 12 witnesses to help prove the prosecution's "fair-play" in its contention that Taylor attacked the girl on the beach and beat her to death with his tin-tipped glasses.

She was United States. Ten minutes later the policeman said he saw Taylor again, still wearing the glasses, beat a black away.

Burglar in Prison Executioner for Two Slayers

San Juan, Porto Rico, July 20 (A.P.)—Ramon Rios, a burglar known as the "Gambino," who is serving a five-year term in prison, today acted as executioner for two of his fellow prisoners.

Carlos Areche and Roberto Clement, convicted of assault and murdering a girl, were hanged shortly after midnight.

The "Gambino" received $100 each for the hangings, and he plans to use the money to establish himself in business after his term expires.

Areche and Clement shared no emotion as they went to the gallows accompanied by two guards and a priest.

Taylor at 11 p. m. near Kelly's hotel, as he wore no glasses.

A gray-haired, pale-faced man, from the stand, he was Stanislas Pomukal, father of the accused girl.

He told briefly of his daughter's home life, described the path he bought as her birthday present, and the cigarette ring presented last Christmas.

Arthur Williams, Haverhill and Salisbury, Maine, testified that Stella's first visit to him at Haverhill, last winter.

He told of her asking for summer work in his beach studio and of her beginning the work on May 28.

OFFERS WATCH FOR SALE. Williams said he did not see her after she left his studio early on the night of July 3 to go for a walk.

William N. Dove, former of Kenilworth, N. H., testified that he saw Taylor at 510 Oxford at Ocean who had been at the beach.

She was United States. Ten minutes later the policeman said he saw Taylor again, still wearing the glasses, beat a black away.

The policeman testified he saw ported both were barely grazed at the breakfast of boiled eggs and milk, bread and coffee, which was placed before them.

They also refused to eat any more, prolonging their fast to 52 hours.

"Dr. McLaughlin found Sacco and Vanzetti apparently suffering no ill effects, as yet," said Warden Hendry, "We both talked with them and asked for a piece of paper, and both of them said they were feeling all right."

"I asked them if they would like any different sort of food than that served, but both replied in the negative, saying the food was all right."

FAST AGAINST "SERVICISM." The warden indicated the prisoners had said a lot more but he refused to repeat their remarks.

"I don't feel at liberty to repeat any remarks they make about their strike or their reasons for keeping it up," he said. "Neither do I feel free to repeat their protests as to the Governor's action."

According to the Sacco-Vanzetti Defense committee, the hunger strike was launched in protest against the severity of the investigation committee. Should facilitate feeding be covered to it is considered likely that Warden Hendry will, on the advice of physicians, use the nasal tube method which is said to have been employed in breaking the hunger strike of the former English militant suffragette, Mrs. Pankhurst.

Through the use of the nasal tube, food is forced into the stomach, and this method prevents the subject from sitting the tube or interfering in any way with the feeding.

A decision by the advisory committee appointed by Governor Fuller to investigate the case is expected early next week.

Tomorrow morning another crisis in the protracted case comes when a hearing will be held at City Hall to determine whether or not Sacco and Vanzetti will be permitted to testify through the streets of Boston on Sunday, July 31.

FOUR MORE WITNESSES. Although the sessions of the committee of investigation at the State House were believed to be over, the committee today found four more witnesses for the defense waiting to testify.

Among them are Michael J. Kelly, of Stoughton and Lincoln, Waverley, a local salesman for a Boston sporting goods house and was a witness at the murder trial, testified about a revolver found on Vanzetti. Kelly is connected with the Boston shoe factory where Sacco was formerly worked.

PASTOR FAVORS PENALTY. Among the communications received by the Governor today was one from Rev. C. H. Baldwin of South Boston, containing the following sentence:

"As pastor to the widow of Mr. Parmenter the paymaster for whose death Sacco and Vanzetti were convicted, until her death, I feel a profound interest in the case and pray that law and court and jury decisions prevail against the clamor of the mob."

Iron-Free State railway workers in a telegram from Dublin requested a new trial for the men.

An indication that the sessions of the investigating committee might be prolonged even longer than expected came from Attorney Thompson, defense counsel, who said he may have more witnesses tomorrow.

M. Verrucci, Italian consul in Boston, was before the committee body today, as was James E. King of Weymouth, Boston, newspaperman.

The mass investigation into the case

Sacco's 'Golden Love' Letter to Daughter

From his "sad walled cell," Nicola Sacco, in a letter to his little daughter, bared the anguish of his soul, his fast vanishing hope of living and his pathetic gratitude for "golden" words which she had forged into a letter to him.

This letter, written in the hushed evening hours at State Prison the night before he began his desperate hunger strike, and given out by the defense committee, follows:

"My little girl, I would like that you should understand what I am going to say to you, and I wish I could write you so plain for I long so much to have you hear and feel all the love and affection of your father, for I love you so much as you are the dearest little loved one."

"Your Letter Golden." It is quite hard, indeed, to make you understand in your young age, but I am going to try from the bottom of my heart to make you understand how dear you are to your father's soul. If I cannot succeed in doing that, I know that you will save this letter and read it over in future years to come and you will see and feel the heart's affection as your father feels in writing it to you.

I will bring with me your little and so dearest letter, and copy it right under my heart to the last day of my life. When I die it will be buried with your father, who loves you so much, as I do your mother, Dante and my dear daughter.

You don't know, little, how dear and great your letter was to your father. It is the most golden present that you could have given to me or that I could have wished for in these sad days.

It was my greatest treasure and treasure in my struggling life that I could have lived with you.

loved to see her other poor girls, and their brothers happy with their mother and father as I dreamed for us, but it was not so. And the nights of the lower classes have saddened very badly your father's soul.

For the things of beauty and of good in this life mother nature gave to us all for the conquest and the joy of liberty. The men of this dying old society they brutally have pulled me away from the embrace of your brother and your poor mother.

But, in spite of all, the free spirit of your father's faith still survives, and I have lived for it and for the dream that some day I would have come back to life, to the embrace of your dear mother, among our friends and comrades still, but not in me.

"You Are Here." I know that you are good and surely you love your mother. Dante and all the beloved ones, and I am sure that you love me a little for I love you so much and then so much. You do not know, little, how often I think of you every day. You are in my of this sad world, in every angle and everywhere my gaze rests. Meaning give my best, eternal greetings to all the friends, and comrades and doubly so to our beloved ones. Love and kisses to your brother and mother. With the most affectionate love and ineffable kisses from him who loves you so much that he constantly thinks of you.

P. S.—Best warm greetings from Dante to you all.

Not Guilty—now!

Never embarrassed by perspiration odor
[This hygienic toilet soap purifies.]
[Keeps odor away—even after exercise]

WHAT a relief to be able to play tennis for hours—enjoy a stiff game of golf—dance a whole evening through—do any of the things that make you perspire and still be safe from the embarrassment of odor.

Millions now avoid perspiration odor this simple, easy way—Lifebuoy. A delightful toilet soap so refreshing that it's a joy to bathe with it every day. It purifies pores all over the body—gives lasting freedom from perspiration odor—keeps you fresh even in hottest weather or after hard exercise.

Keeps complexion healthy, too
Lifebuoy's mild, antiseptic lather not only purifies body pores—it purifies face pores, too, keeping complexion clear, fresh and glowing with health.

Better still, this same purifying lather helps protect against sickness—by removing germs from hands, as well as dirt. Yet it's so wonderfully gentle and soothing that your skin will love it.

Its very scent reassures
Lifebuoy is so different from other toilet and bath soaps that even its scent is different. Not a perfume, but a clean, hygienic scent which tells you Lifebuoy gives greater protection.

Even before you've finished your first soak, you'll learn to like this cleanest of all soap scents, which quickly evaporates after rinsing.

Without its antiseptic, Lifebuoy would still be a wonderful toilet soap—but you wouldn't get the same measure of protection.

Extra protection—free
Lifebuoy assures greater health protection and freedom from perspiration odor—yet costs no more, probably less, than the toilet soap you now use. Lifebuoy is orange-red, a big generous cake. You can get it wherever soap is sold.

BETTY ALDEN'S SOCIETY COMMENT

Representative Crowd to Be in Attendance at Stillington Hall Opera This Evening

THIS EVENING THE NORTH Shore has its first taste of "opera" as served up at Stillington Hall and sung by the American Opera Company. Ken's enthusiasm for this newest venture into the realm of art and apparently the whole North Shore is on the qui vive. Reservations made long since insure an audience of the first water at Stillington. Lucile Bawell's beautifully appointed theatre at Stillington.

THE WALLACE GOODRICHES right in the forefront of the "opera" movement at the Shore have reservations, of course. Miss Grace Moske of Edgewood, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leiter, Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes and Mrs. Holmes, the John Greenoughs, Mrs. George E. Peabody of the Hotel Victoria and the North Shore. George Washington Brown (veteran opera-goer) and ever so many others of the musical society set whose presence makes North Shore life the brilliant melange it is.

THE HENDRICKS HALLET WHITMANS have a party and so have the George Edg. Warrens. Mrs. John S. Curtis, the M. Graeme Haughtons, Mr. and Mrs. Howard T. Wainwright and the Rev. and Mrs. John McGraw Foster will be in this evening's audience in great the youthful opera singers in "Pasha". The entire troupe is domiciled at the Hotel Hesperia in Hingham for some weeks putting in a rigorous training for their operatic appearances. The operatic venture is being watched by all those people throughout the country who desire the best in music and a field wherein young singers may have an opportunity to exercise their God-given talents.

AFTER A STAY AT YORK HARBOR, where Summer time life is both smart and amusing, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Fiske are moving on to Matapoisett for an interval. Matapoisett, like York, boasts a smart Summer colony and ever so many attractive estates, and both have blowing from the best in music and a field wherein young singers may have an opportunity to exercise their God-given talents.

Mrs. George von L. Meyer
 ON NEWPORT'S SANDS
 Two of Boston's smartest as they appeared at Bailey's Beach. Mrs. Meyer has been house guest at Mrs. Ames' villa.

A continuation of the wedding journey commenced abroad. Mrs. Fiske comes of an old Devonshire family and after a journey by motor through France there was a round of country estates in England. Mr. Fiske has a country place in Weston and a town house in Marlboro Street to be provided for by the new Mrs. Fiske, who has charmed everyone who has had the pleasure of meeting her over here. The Fiske connection here includes Mrs. Thomas W. Storrow (Nella Fiske) and Mrs. Lloyd Sanderson (Rosanna Fiske) of New York.

MR. and MRS. JEFFERSON RANDOLPH KEAN, formerly of Boston and now of Washington, are to be house guests of Mrs. Clarence Hanson Edwards at "Dunrovering" out in Westwood. Later the Kean's go Northward to be with Mrs. Lars Anderson at her country place in Conkord. Up in that charming region Mrs. Anderson has a tiny place (I believe they call it "The Bandbox") to which she frequently retreats with a few friends. Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Kean are comrades of long standing and one of the trio is often hostess to the other two.

MR. and MRS. GEORGE L. HATCHELDER, Jr., are sailing homeward this day from London, where they went for that brilliant marriage that united Miss Matilda Houghton and C. P. Anderson, Jr., in the holy bonds of matrimony. Young Mr. Hatchelder was one of the authors and he and Mrs. Hatchelder sailed with others of the local smart set who were recently concerned in the nuptials. They will set this way on July 27 and will be at Manchester for the late season.

IN THE VERY CENTRE OF THE social sun as it shines on Newport is the Boston contingent. Mrs. F. L. Lathrop Ames recently entertained Mrs. George von L. Meyer at the Ames villa between Bellevue Avenue and the sea, and needless to say, both matrons were smartly turned out for Bailey's Beach and the Casino. Mrs. Meyer's Summer is mainly a North Shore one, with a period at Martha's Vineyard with her small children.

WIVES NEED HUSBANDS' PERMITS TO LAND IN CUBA
 Havana, July 20 (A.P.)—Married women travelling alone, who arrive in Cuba without official permits from their husbands, started by the Cuban consul at the point of embarkation, will not be allowed to land, and will be sent to the detention camp, according to a statement of Santiago Canabarro, commissioner of Immigration, in explaining the immigration decree signed by President Zayas some time ago. The order will be applied to women of foreign birth and citizenship as well as Cuban women.

 A five-ton motor truck, owned by E. 2-REEL DRAMAS IN FILMS SOON

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
 ON this Fall, Famous Players-Lasker will come forth with a little surprise package in the way of a series of two-reel dramas all made and ready for distribution. They are being made at a remote Hollywood studio.
 The secrecy that surrounds their production is such that not one word of the director, the plays, nor the titles could be gleaned from the number of the company who dropped the information.
 These two-reel "dramas" will take the place once occupied by the two-reel comedies. They will accompany the feature comedies on their trips to the various theatres. In the past every drama of any importance was accompanied by a short reel comedy.

THE reel of wit and mirth is not sufficient to keep Mrs. Sam Warner busy. As Lina Barquette, she achieved some fame as a dancer and since that time has had a yearning to go into the movies.
 Her husband agreed with her that she would be good on the screen, but he said nothing about her appearing in Warner Brothers pictures. She had a job in the Universal to take her hands and so she went to the Universal and "was" a strong possibility that she will sign a contract there within a day or two, starting in a forthcoming Universal picture.

In two months time, Vivian Dwyer can either wear a wedding ring or an engagement ring. That is the problem also must give Mr. Arthur, the young Swedish actor, before he sailed for Europe. Mr. Dwyer, however, to find out whether he will take place right here.

The Actor For Sale comedy of the Boston American was a veritable mine for good, reliable and rare at the production line.

WILLIAMS SEES U. S. BEATEN

By JAMES T. WILLIAMS, JR.
 Editor of Universal Service
 Washington, July 20—Apparently the United States has been listed as a frigate by an Anglo-Japanese alliance at Geneva, and the British delegation to the Naval Conference has gone home over the weekend.
 Instead of standing by its original demand for the creation of the 2-3 ratio to cruisers and other auxiliary craft, the American government has agreed to discuss a British proposal which is an other side of a different coin.
 For four weeks the British opposed the American proposition, and the Japanese maintained what appeared to be a position of neutrality. Then Ambassador Giffen, chairman of the American delegation, suggested that the Japanese and the British get together and try to agree upon a ratio for cruisers and other auxiliary craft.
 It did not take the British and the Japanese long to come together. They jumped at the easiest deal.

South is the dealer. What is the proper bidding and play? Whitehead will explain the salient points of the bidding and play of the above hand. Fill out your own chart and compare it with his method.

These hands must not be idly played. "Double Dummy," i. e., although all four hands were exposed.

Yesterday's Hand as Played by Mr. Whitehead

Salient Points of the Bidding

West's introductory double of an heart is based upon distributional values with but minimum high-card requirements. He cannot therefore count on partner's forced bid of Spades over South's two hearts, unless his partner holds strength sufficient for a second bid. East, having shown his four-card Spade suit, properly makes the independent bid of three Clubs, after which West asserts the Spade bid, South having twice rebid without hearing from partner. North now asserts, holding something better in his two doubletons and five hearts to the Queen. There is little hope of making the four hearts bid, but his own length in the suit indicates that there is some at Spades for the opponents. South's business double of four Spades is of questionable soundness, but the chances appear to favor doubling in this position.

Salient Points of the Play

Trick 2. South shifts to Diamonds in hope of making two tricks in that suit upon getting with the Ace of Spades.

Trick 3. Declarer leads a trump from Dummy instead of attempting to trump a heart immediately. There are not four trumps in one suit against him, the heart is always trumped at the end. If there are four, declarer, on one hand, crumps the heart will do no good, as he himself must trump a trump.

Mr. Whitehead will answer questions concerning your Bridge problems. Write to him care of this paper, enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope.

Detroit Capitalists Reported Planning on Moving Club to That City Next Year

Detroit, Mich., July 20.—A syndicate made up of Detroit capitalists is reported to be planning to move the Detroit Tigers to that city next year.

It is known that agents for the syndicate already have obtained options on practically all of the property in the several blocks of Michigan Avenue, near the Michigan Central National Station, in order to provide a suitable site for erecting another ball park in Detroit.

While the syndicate is reported to be planning to move the club to Detroit, it is also reported that the club will be sold to a syndicate of capitalists.

Charles A. Hughes, Detroit sportsman and one of the organizers of the Detroit Athletic Club, who has been one of the prime movers in the erection of the Olympia, a large building in this city for hockey and other indoor sports now nearing completion, is reported to be one of the principal promoters of the move.

Lawrence P. Fisher, vice president of the General Motors Corporation, and James Murray, automobile body manufacturer, also are understood to be prominently connected with the new project.

The proposed sale of the new baseball club is located on the same street as the old Detroit American League ball park, and is within easy walking distance.

FLIES 160 MILES AN HOUR

IN RACE TO DYING WIFE

Los Angeles, July 19 (A.P.)—Mr. M. Nelson Snyder, Chicago physician who left Chicago on a mail plane in a race to the bedside of his dying wife here, made the trip in 19 hours. His wife still alive when he reached his goal. Pilot Jimmy Jones of the Western Aircraft Corporation, averaged better than 160 miles per hour from Salt Lake City, beating his flying schedule by an hour.

For the Lead-In Insulator

Instead of drilling a hole through the ash or window casing, or even in the glass, which usually damages the building, the new lead-in insulator, cut a strip of wood the width of the window and two or three inches high. The board can be easily nailed to place a porcelain insulator and then set on the sill under the ash.

A Super Love Story

"The Catspaw," a gripping new serial from the pen of Robert Terry Shannon, author of "The Taxi Dancer" that attracted so much attention in the Boston Evening American recently, will begin in this paper on July 25. Passion, love and hate are all combined in the thrilling adventures of Sylvia Bryant, the beautiful stenographer heroine of the story, and her travels among the money crowd.

Amazingly frank and romantic, "The Catspaw" will hold you spell-bound from the first to the last word. Make sure of reading this serial of serials starting July 25 by ordering your Boston Evening American now!

Q One telephone call cuts out two letters, and all the time between. It puts your personality into adjustments, requests, purchases, sales. It is second only to talking face to face.

Q For a call anywhere in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts or Rhode Island give your local operator the exchange name and the telephone number. Hold the line for a completed connection or a report. "Information" will supply the number if you do not know. It's almost like a local call.

Children Cry For

Fletcher's
CASTORIA

The Young Mother.

The ill of infants and children should be so well known to the youngest of mothers that a reminder or a repetition of the symptoms of illness seems unnecessary, yet there are some mothers who overlook a feverish condition, a little cold, or a disposition to be irritable. If not corrected they may lead to serious sickness. And to correct them, to bring Baby back to his happy self, is so easy by the use of Castoria—a medicine prepared just for infants and children. It will regulate the bowels (not force them), aid digestion and so bring quiet and rest.

Fletcher's Castoria has been doing this for over 30 years; regulating the stomach and bowels of infants and children. It has replaced the nauseating Castor Oil, so-called Soothing Syrup, poisonous Paregoric and other vicious concoctions in the homes of true and honest mothers—mothers who love their children.

Those mothers will give their babies foods and medicines especially prepared for infants and children.

To avoid imitations, always look for the signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher. Follow directions on each package. Physicians everywhere recommend it.

MEDBURY SAYS--BY JOHN P. MEDBURY

A PATENT medicine concern is busy flooding the market with a new rejuvenation tonic. In another couple of months all the Old People's Homes will look like orphan asylums.

ONE bottle of this stuff would make a turtle kick a jack-rabbit in the shins.

IT puts so much life into you that in three weeks you'd be getting maple syrup out of a wooden leg.

ONE drink and a man would talk back to his own wife.

TWO drinks and he'd talk back to anybody's wife.

PUT a pint of this stuff in the gas tank, and a Ford could pass itself on a hill.

A CAT took a swallow the other night and busted up a dog show.

BUT a mouse took a couple of swallows and chased the cat out of the building.

IT'S a wonderful tonic to have around the house. One drink and a married man can make up his own mind.

THE BEST JOKE I EVER HEARD

Minister—"I made seven hearts happy today."

Parishioner—"How was that?"

Minister—"Married three couples."

Parishioner—"That only made six."

Minister—"Well, you don't think I did it for nothing."

SMART SAYINGS OF CLEVER CHILDREN

Little Girl—"Fancy your father, a tailor, letting you go about in those old trousers."

Boy—"Well, what of it? Your father's a dentist, and yet your baby hasn't any teeth."

IT made a Boston man feel so good the other day that he paid another fellow's income tax.

A SCOTCHMAN even went out and spent some of his own money.

IT caused him to become so generous that he had to drink two bottles of this antidote.

A WOMAN sprinkled her flowers with this tonic one morning and the sunflowers hit two pedestrians.

THE century plant began blooming like traffic signals.

IF they ever started using this stuff for embalming fluid, the undertakers would have to put hand cuffs on the corpse.

IT makes you feel so full of pep that no man would have the patience to ride in his own horse.

HE'D probably jump out and help the horse.

TANNISHED BRASS.

Tarnished brass can be cleaned by dissolving two heaped table-spoons of salt in half a pint of vinegar, and rubbing with this mixture. A little dry whiting should be used for polishing.
